Presentation by Forester Jeff Kante on recommended dates for weed treatment by Marine Biochemists and possible grants available for invasive species.

Forester Kante explained to the Board recommended application dates for spring treatment. Such a decision depends on water temperature, thickness of ice, lake levels and weed growth. Any application done before the weeds have started to grow aggressively will be futile and a waste. Experience and history has dictated when the treatments begin. First application usually occurs after Memorial Day, the first week of June. Because so many variables apply in order for treatment to work, good judgment is necessary. The DNR is recommending we start treatment a little earlier with a follow-up treatment later to catch any missed areas. Additional monitoring was also recommended. Options were discussed for 2013 water treatment. The recent treatment was very effective in downing the clusters. Lake Management Committee will meet to discuss this matter further.

Forester Kante then advised on availability of grant money. Currently, there is grant money available for invasive plants, new infestations only, not for ongoing invasive plants (Aquatic Invasive Species Control Grant). No money available at this time for our particular situation. Education and communication with legislatures is necessary. There are a number of workshops which are very worthwhile. Boulder Junction is holding a workshop on invasive species October 18, 2012.

Review preliminary budget for the Village of Chenequa for 2013.

The budget as presented meets the State of Wisconsin law of a 0% increase for the year 2013; however, it does include a 1.2% levy increase for new debt which is allowed under the state levy limit cap. The new debt is a $200,000 loan for new highway trucks which carries an annual payment of $22,955.16.

The Public Safety Committee was briefed on the proposed budget and the committee recommended approval of the police budget as submitted. The Deer Management Program was reviewed with a recommendation that we continue this program in the same manner as have in the past.

The Personnel Committee has started contract negotiations for next year. The remaining staff is also under review at this time for 2013.
